Meet Frank Hutson, Soon To Be Police Chief

by Mavis Fletcher

Francis T. (Frank) Hutson, recently appointed Deputy Chief of the Greenbelt police department, will become chief of Greenbelt's department in July, when Chief William T. Lane retires.

Deputy Chief Hutson, 46, comes to Greenbelt after a distinguished career with the Baltimore County department from which he retired with the rank of major and as the third-ranking officer in the department. He retired from the Baltimore County police force after 25 years because he wanted to round off his career in police work as chief of a department. Greenbelt appealed to him because he liked the area and the community. He characterizes the department here as a "professional setting" and he views the city as a good representative of a small suburban community.

In Baltimore County

Before taking over the managerial duties involved in commanding the police jurisdictions of the central and, most recently, the eastern areas of Baltimore County, Hutson had spent most of his years in criminal investigation and intelligence, two areas of his job he has liked best.

Hutson is a native of Baltimore. He holds an AA degree in Criminal Justice and is a graduate of the FBI's National Academy and the Federal Executive Institute. Currently he is vice-president of the Maryland Law Enforcement Officers' Association, as well as chairman of that organization's legislative committee. He expects to be active in the local branch of the Municipal Chiefs of Police.

Greenbelt

Hutson speaks with enthusiasm about the prospects of working with local civic and community groups, neighborhood watch organizations and getting to know the people of Greenbelt. He invites citizens to let him know their concerns. "It will take me a while to see the needs of Greenbelt," he said. He is impatient to move here. He and his wife, Margaret, have been looking at houses in the city and he hopes to move soon. A daughter, Betsy, will be joining them here.

Hutson is outgoing, decisive, intelligent, cheerful and energetic—above all, energetic. As one member of the department put get acquainted with the personnel. One of the functions he wants to work on is equalizing manpower in the various units in order to put more officers on the street. He also intends to put great emphasis on good communication between police and community.

As he put it, "When there is a lack of cooperation, everyone suffers. I intend to deal sincerely with people. And I hope the people will help."

Hutson preferred not to make judgment at this time concerning the number of officers needed in the Greenbelt department. Reminded that the Crime Pre-it, "We'll need track shoes to keep up with him."

He views the problems of crime in Greenbelt as similar to those of Baltimore County—but on a smaller scale, particularly regarding violent crime. He believes that in a smaller area, where police response time can be much quicker, a "good police department" (which he says Greenbelt's department is) can be very effective in reducing crime.

Having been in Greenbelt for about a month, Hutson says that he is using this transition time to evaluate the department and vention Committee and the Fraternal Order of Police are calling for up to 10 additional officers, Hutson said he thinks the department size needs to be increased but is not yet ready to attach a figure to that increase.

Concerning an outside evaluation of the police department, which was called for last fall by a group of citizens, Hutson said that while not opposed to the idea, he would like the opportunity first of doing his own evaluation. He pointed out that an in-house evaluation might accomplish the same results, while saving the city considerable money.

Castaldi Working For Crossing Gate

by Rod Price

Prince Georges County Councilman Richard J. Castaldi said there seems to be a "miscommunication" between the agencies responsible for installing gates at the railroad crossing on Sunnyside Avenue in Beltsville. On March 7, 1984, Greenbelt resident David Craig was killed at the crossing when his stalled truck was hit by a freight train traveling 40 miles per hour.

In response to numerous complaints following the accident, Castaldi contacted Robert Herstein of the Maryland State Highway Administration and was told that the crossing had been scheduled for fiberglass gates since June 1983. Herstein said that the project has not been implemented because the County Department of Public Works and Transportation has "failed to provide certain approvals." Castaldi then reached Vaughn E. Barkdoll, director of the Department of Public Works and Transportation, was informed that the county signed the agreement authorizing the gate installation on July 12, 1983.

Castaldi's latest letter to Herstein, dated April 5, urges the S.H.A. to install the crossing gates at the earliest possible date. The letter goes on to say that the most recent Transportation System Center rankings lists the Sunnyside crossing as the sixth most dangerous of the 990 public crossings in Maryland. There have been five accidents at the crossing since 1979.

GHI Hears Waterblasting Problems; Plans Agenda for Annual Meeting

by Mavis Fletcher

At the meeting on March 22, the board of directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. Development Corporation discussed the progress of the structural repair and painting program being tested on four buildings. On the previous day some members of the board had participated in a walk-through of the test buildings. Judging from the board members' comments, the test buildings, which had been scheduled for completion before the board's inspection, were far from complete.

This delay stemmed partly from bad weather and partly from unexpected problems encountered with the waterblasting of the block homes. General Manager Shekar Narasimhan characterized the waterblasting difficulty as a technical problem which he felt sure could be overcome. Narasimhan was seeking from the board a commitment to completion of the program in all masonry homes providing the technical problems could be solved and the test buildings finished according to specifications.

Several board members demurred at approving the rest of the project without seeing the test buildings in their completed form. Narasimhan assured the board that the program would not proceed unless the waterblasting problems were solved to the satisfaction of the paint manufacturer. Surface preparation must be adequate before the paint company will guarantee the life of the paint job.

The board divided on the question of giving permission to proceed before the test buildings were finished. Approval was finally given on a 5-2-1 vote, with Directors Frank Gervasi and Mark Dombrowski opposed and Director Wayne Williams abstaining.

Annual Meeting

The board, sitting as the directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. focused on the agenda for the annual membership meeting on May 16. The draft agenda presented to the board included, as old business, a proposed revision of last year's membership decision on the sale of boiler rooms adjacent to frame homes. One sale has been made and bids have been made on eight others; that still leaves 10 boiler rooms in which the adjacent members apparently have no interest. The proposed revision would seek membership approval for sales to other parties for designated uses. Director Joe Jenkins said that he would have difficulty with the idea of anyone outside GHI buying one of the boiler rooms. Several other directors expressed agreement with his statement.

Under new business, the draft agenda includes provision for: 1) authority to sell the six masonry duplex boiler plants, 2) bylaw changes needed to permit GHI to participate in a new cooperative mortgage banking company with the National Consumer Cooperative Bank, 3) bylaw changes to be presented by the Ad Hoc Bylaw Review Committee.

Other matters dealt with by the board included unanimous approval on first reading of a contract to remove the chimney of Boiler Room No. 24 and a one-year contract for pest extermination. The latter contract includes a fixed price for termite inspections, which GHI now performs to satisfy lenders on sale of GHI units. This cost is reimbursed to GHI at the times of settlement.

Moisture Problems

Member Steven Curtis questioned what measures are being undertaken to deal with the moisture problem in brick home attics, which has caused mold to grow on the under surface of the roof in some cases. Narasimhan replied that a mechanical venting system has been tested and is available to the membership. Bullet vents have also been installed when requested by the members. In addition, a static roof vent test is under consideration but potential damage to slate roofs is proving a barrier to such a test. Curtis expressed the opinion that the mechanical ventilation system seems to be the only proven method; however, this method is not available to everyone since members in all units in a building have to agree to install the system. He warned that moisture will cause real damage to the roofs, estimating that such damage is only five years away. President Margaret Hogensen assured him that the board understands the need to solve the problem and Director Mark Dombrowski pointed out that members of the ad hoc committee on moisture problems, also working on this matter, agree that a solution has to be found.

The board also unanimously approved regulations regarding yard care, hedges and yard line descriptions. These rules will be distributed to the membership as part of the revised official Rules and Regulations.

In Support of CB-26

To the Editor:

I am responding to your March 29 issue which includes comments from the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad, Inc. Their statements imply that the efforts to provide Advanced Life Support (Paramedic Service) through a billing mechanism will have an adverse impact on their fund raisers, as well as their volunteerism.

Our nationwide research of similar programs has failed to reveal any data which would support the statement that there will be a revenue loss nor have we been able to find any information that would indicate an adverse impact on volunteerism. The current legislative proposal CB-26 (Draft 3) was developed following many meetings with Volunteer Fire Service leadership from all parts of Prince Georges County. It is intended to accommodate the needs of the public, while having the least possible financial impact.

In their comments, the Greenbelt Volunteers indicate that they may incur a 20% reduction in their budget because of CB-26. Our best information indicates that their annual fund drive generates some $16,000-$18,000 annually. If their worst projection were to occur, the loss of revenue would be $3,600.

Under the provisions of CB-26 which returns money to the volunteers for the patients that they have transported, the Greenbelt Volunteers would potentially receive $6,040 which obviously would more than offset any possible loss of fund raising income. In fact, it would actually produce a net profit of $2,440.

An Implementation Task Group comprised of four volunteers and two career firefighters has developed procedures which will safeguard the volunteers, assure that there will be no budget reductions as a result of CB-26, provide exemptions from the transport fee for the volunteers and their families, as well as return a portion of the fees to the individual volunteer companies. In FY '85, it is estimated that the county will return in excess of $200,000 to the volunteer companies. The Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department stands to be in a better financial position as a result of CB-26.

All of our fiscal projections have indicated that charging $50 for a basic life support unit transport and $75 for an advanced life support unit transport will not totally offset the cost of the additional advanced life support units. The County Executive has indicated that this program is of such major importance that the balance of the funds will be financed from other sources.

A major component of CB-26 is that we will provide training in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) to 50,000 citizens a year. The CPR Program combined with the placement of paramedics in order that they can arrive at an emergency scene within eight minutes will increase the present cardiac survival rate from the present 10% to more than 43%.

Dismayed!

To the Editor:

Having recently reached voting age and gotten involved in local civic activities, I am one of those individuals who spent a lot of time and effort working with the S.O.S. citizen's committee and petition drive. I was very dismayed when I read Mr. and Mrs. White's letters in recent issues of the News Review. I felt, along with 1,211 others who signed the petition, that S.O.S. was very worthwhile and, yes, necessary. I think it is a shame that Tom White, whom so many people look to for responsible leadership, would let them down by trying to lessen the value of this well-

Our purpose was not to seek political gains, but sincerely to help keep the Co-op Supermarket, Pharmacy and Service Station functioning. I and others in S.O.S. are very pleased that G.C.C. was able to take over the Co-op and we plan to support them in any way we can.

The Co-op Divestiture Spelling Out Some Issues

by Albert K. Herling

I do hope that the News Review has not decided to put an end to public discussion of the Greenbelt Cooperative Inc. divestiture decision. It ill behooves anyone to establish a moratorium unilaterally as is implied in Helen White's letter in the April 5 issue. Closing discussion is not "the best course" in a democratic society, especially when claims are still made and the opportunity for response had not yet been provided. (See Thomas X. White's letter in April 5 issue.)

Mrs. White asserts that "legal restraints have been swept aside and our services have been saved by GCC." Not so.

The legal process is not yet over, appeal having been filed. And, while due to GCC efforts the supermarket and pharmacy may be purchased by GCC, the service station will, according to GCI, be sold to a private interest party.

That the community was, and is, united in wanting to keep the services here was never in dispute. The question was: Should we try to get GCI to keep the services going; should we form a new co-op to buy back what we own; should we let a non-co-op, private profit organization buy the services?

The City Council and the Mayor became involved because of the consternation in the community—this is what other city councils and mayors have done in other cities where closings of plants or industries were threatened. Surely, a responsible and responsive position. The GCI board's sudden thunderbolt announcement of divestiture caused dismay and consternation.

What was, and still is, in dispute is the nature of GCI as a cooperative organization which always claimed to stand for "democratic ownership and control."

Many of us consider the divestiture action without true consultation with the membership—GCI Board rejected the appeals of local area councils and the vote of the co-op Congress—to be a display of unquestionable disdain for the basic cooperative principles of democratic ownership and control.

If we members and stockholders are truly owners, why is it necessary for us to buy what we already own? The membership if consulted, and if fully informed might possibly have opted for a transfer—not a sale—of the various facilities to newly formed local Co-ops. Some minimum cost would have been involved in this but it would have been nothing close to the sale price. Instead, the GCI Board made purchase by newly formed co-ops as only one option, with sale to outside groups as another option.

Mr. White compares the divestiture with the action in the Twin Pines situation. There is a tremendous difference. The Board of Twin Pines made every effort to retain its identity and cooperative nature. Failure, in the economic stress of that period to get Greenbelt Homes to agree to an arrangement to help Twin Pines weather the economic storm left Twin Pines totally at the pressure and demands of the Maryland State Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. This is what forced Twin Pines into being absorbed by Community S&L.

But one important consideration has not been mentioned nor appreciated in the discussion in the columns of the News Review. This is the situation concerning the employees of the Co-op. These are the people who have faithfully served us for many years and have sacrificed to help GCI keep going because they believe in the cooperative way. In spite of these sacrifices, the GCI Board and management have placed the onus of the "deficit" upon the backs of the workers. A totally false and misleading charge.

GCI employees in the food stores have not had a pay raise in four years—even during the high inflation rate of those years. Their wages are at least one-third lower than those of the food workers in the chains.

GCI employees, heeding the pleas of the GCI Board and management, surrendered their severance pay. This saved GCI untold thousands of dollars.

GCI Board and management never offered to provide an arrangement for food store employees, close to the 30 years service for full retirement, to gain the benefit that was in reach. (Offers to work for Scan would have placed them under a different retirement system and would have lowered their retirement benefits.)

More than the local services are involved. The whole co-op, including Scan, the question of co-op principles, the moral issues of responsibility to communities and employees, the reputation of the entire cooperative movement—these are all at issue, as I see it. I believe in the cooperative way too deeply and too intensely to sit idly by and see its principles raped by those who betray the visions of its founders for establishing a consumer instrument of economic democracy.

Fire & Rescue Review

by F/F April Walker
Weekly Calls

The Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad ran a total of 29 calls for the week ending Saturday, April 8. The fire calls included: 4 alarm bells, 3 structural fires, 1 gas leak, 1 investigation, a transfer and an auto fire. The rescue calls included 4 injured people, 3 sick people, 2 vehicle accidents, 2 heroin overdoses, 2 trouble breathing, 2 routine transports, one attempted suicide, a diabetic coma, and a call for chest pains.

Two Heroin Overdoses

We at the Fire Department are concerned over the fact that there were two heroin overdoses this week. We are especially concerned that this drug might fall into the hands of children and young adults. The signs of a heavy dose of narcotics, such as heroin, include lethargy and increasing reduction in activity and awareness, depressed breathing and, often, profuse sweating. Pupils are contracted to pinpoint size. Symptoms of withdrawal include restlessness and anxiety along with nausea, vomiting and diarrhea. Narcotics are both dangerous and habit forming. Overdose can lead to death and habitual use can lead to infection, hepatitis, and malnutrition. If heroin overdose is suspected the American Red Cross recommends arousing the victim if possible, maintaining an open airway, and calling 911 for the ambulance as soon as possible.

Bull and Oyster Roast

There are a few tickets left for the bull and oyster roast Sunday from 2 to 6 p.m. For information and tickets call the fire department at 345-7000.

Notice of Public Hearing

Emler & Associates, P.A., dated January 1982, and are entirely enclosed by the present city boundaries.

The Elinor M. Seger property consists of 3.88 acres, and the Holy Cross Lutheran Church property consists of .47 acres, for a total area to be annexed of 4.35 acres and this area is depicted on the location map shown below:

The property is being annexed to the City of Greenbelt, Maryland, under the provisions of Article 23A, Section 19(b)(2) of the Annotated Code of the State of Maryland, and the City Council of Greenbelt has determined and certified that the real property to be annexed meets all the requirements of the above referenced Section 19(b)(2) in that it is bounded on all sides by real property presently within the corporate limits of the City of Greenbelt, and the entire area is to be included in the same annexation, as shown in the Plat of Annexation; and the size of the area does not exceed 1.5 percent of the present area of the City of Greenbelt; and the number of residents in the area does not exceed 1 percent of the population of the City of Greenbelt, Maryland.

Said Resolution proposes to extend the boundaries of the City of Greenbelt to include the aforesaid area; and provides that all the laws of the State of Maryland applicable to the City of Greenbelt which are now in force or may hereafter be enacted and all the existing charter provisions and ordinances of the City of Greenbelt, except as otherwise provided in this resolution, shall be extended and made applicable to such portion of Prince George's County as is under the provisions of this Resolution annexed to and made a part of the City of Greenbelt; and said Resolution further provides that all the inhabitants of the territory annexed to the City of Greenbelt by this Resolution shall, in all respects and to all intents and purposes, be subject to the powers, jurisdictions and authority vested, or to be vested by law, in the Council of the City of Greenbelt or which may hereafter be enacted or ordained by it; and the territory so annexed shall, in all respects, be taken and considered as a part of the municipal corporation of the City of Greenbelt.

Said Resolution further provides for the special treatment of taxable real property of the territory thereby annexed in the following manner: A. The property shall not be subject to real property taxes now levied or to be levied in the future by the City of Greenbelt, until such time as there is a change in the ownership or zoning from that in effect at the time of this annexation, or a change in the character or usage as a single family residence and vacant land; and B. Upon any change in ownership of the property or portions thereof, or a change in the zoning, or its character, or its usage from that in effect at the time of this annexation, whichever shall occur first, such real property as may be changed shall become taxable by the City of Greenbelt, Maryland, from the date of such change, and taxes shall then be levied upon the property so changed in the same manner as all other taxable real property within the corporate limits of the City of Greenbelt, Maryland.

An Outline for the Extension of Public Services and Public Facilities has been prepared as required by Section 19(o) of Article 23A of the Annotated Code of the State of Maryland (1957 Edition and Amendments), and copies of this outline, as well as copies of the Resolution, may be obtained from the City Clerk, Municipal Building, 25 Crescent Road, Greenbelt, Maryland, Telephone 474-3870 or 474-8000. Such copies will also be made available for public review and discussion at the public hearing herein before advertised.

In accordance with Section 19(d) of Article 23A of the Annotated Code of the State of Maryland (1957 Edition and Amendments), the governing body of Prince Georges County, and any regional and state planning agencies having jurisdiction within the county shall be heard first at the public hearing, after which the hearing shall be open to the general public.

FOR MORE PROPERTIES TO SELL!

CONSIDERING A CHANGE IN RESIDENCE?

There are three key elements to consider:

- A) Your needs: things you positively have to have.
B) Your wants: things you'd like to have, but don't necessarily need.
C) Your qualifications:
1) Your initial investment (cash to move in)
2) Your total income (gross yearly income)
3) Your debt service (total indebtedness)

I would like the opportunity to discuss with you how we can combine these three factors to assist you and your family in achieving your housing goals both within Greenbelt and the metropolitan area - of course with no obligation.
